Gorgeous Entrance To Canyon Park

Hundreds Of Trees And Shrubs From City Nursery Going Into New Playground

Prof. Oskar Seiling's 20-year dream of an incomparable canyon beauty spot drew nearer realization this week when a crew of workmen began setting out more than 400 Italian Cypress trees and other shrubs and plants at the entrance to Bailey Canyon Park.

A "Y" entrance is being landscaped with hardy trees and shrubbery grown from seeds and cuttings in the lathhouse at the City Park. Three truckloads of trees and plants have already been delivered at the canyon entrance, and at least three or more remain for delivery.

The roadway leading into the canyon is being planted with more than 400 Italian Cypresses, while Cedar Deodars are placed in the open spaces lying to the sides. Worked into the entrance planting scheme will be Oleanders, Eugenia, Lejustrum, Pitosporum, Catalina Cherry, Spanish Broom, Leptosporum, Monterey Cypress and Poplars.

Prof. Seiling pointed out the advantage of using the present species of plants and trees, all of which need little attention. "They need watering only once a week, perhaps," he said, "and may when they grow larger it will be necessary to cut them so as not to interfere with automobiles and pedestrians."

The Cypresses lining the roadway and the Deodars are widely spaced so that automobiles may be driven and parked between them when crowds are being handled in the Canyon.

Prof. Seiling said landscaping in the natural amphitheatre is not yet finished. Several plans are under consideration so that audiences viewing afternoon performances will not gaze into a setting sun. One plan calls for creation of a second and smaller "reversed" stage with audiences sitting with their backs toward the sun. At the same time eucalyptus trees would be planted on the brow of the Westerly hill, which, when they reached a normal growth, would stop the sun from shining in the eyes of those looking down on the regular stage.

Talented Girls To Give Program At O.E.S. Musical Tea

Miss Elizabeth Morgridge and Miss Moreland Kortkamp, will be featured on the program for a Musical Tea to be held on Saturday, May 28, at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George B. Morgridge, 19 West Orange Grove avenue. The affair will be held under the auspices of the Order of the Eastern Star, with a nominal admission charge. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Blanche Bule, Mrs. Josephine E. Marr and Mrs. L. L. Wammock.

Miss Morgridge and Miss Kortkamp are well-known for the excellence of their performances in Sierra Madre, Pasadena, and other San Gabriel Valley cities. Miss Morgridge has been chosen to play a violin solo on the occasion of the Pasadena Junior College baccalaureate exercises in the municipal auditorium, although a member of the Freshman class. Miss Kortkamp has been chosen to play a piano solo at the Woodrow Wilson Junior High School commencement, where she is a senior.

SWEETS FROM ORCHARD HERE ARE SERVED ON BREAKFAST TABLES ALL OVER THE WORLD

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOR; MEET E. WALDO WARD

By Harry Burke
E WALDO WARD was talking long distance—locally—as the writer swung into the driveway to his East Highland estate. It is, of course, easy to tell if Mr. Ward is home—if he is at the telephone.

In our town Mr. Ward is a somebody—not because of his thunderous tone, not because of his vociferous exterior and bellicose demeanor, but because the product of his orchard goes to the far places of the universe with the stamp of Sierra Madre upon it. For some years the "Ward Marmalade" has stood unexcelled in the finest markets of the world.

"But what are we coming to?" he asks. The four hundred trees in his bitter-sweet orchard perk up and listen open-mouthed as he sweeps his arm toward them. "Look at 'em!" he shouts. "There they are, four hundred of 'em and every one costing me three dollars a year. Yes, twelve hundred dollars a year for the last three years is what I have paid."

"And look here!" commanded Mr. Ward, sliding back the warehouse door of his factory. "Look at them! There's hundreds of cases of marmalade all going to waste because there is no market. And why? Well, here comes the New York Journal of Com-

Big Crowd Is Expected At St. Rita's

Visitors In Annual Pilgrimage Here Will Be Blessed At Rose Ceremonial

The annual pilgrimage to St. Rita's Shrine in Sierra Madre will take place on Sunday, May 22nd. On that day three services will be held in the morning; namely, masses at 7 and 9 o'clock with High Mass and sermon at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock a sermon in honor of St. Rita will be presented, after which roses will be blessed with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

An authenticated relic of Saint Rita is kept at the Shrine and will be exposed all day Sunday. Visitors will be blessed with the relic during the sermon. For years great crowds of people have come to St. Rita's Shrine and this year fully a thousand pilgrims are expected. A special musical program has been arranged and a number of excellent singers have volunteered their services for that day.

Many people come to Sierra Madre for the early service and spend the day in devout exercises and prayer. For these, the Altar Society provides lunch and refreshments, and at sun-down each one turns homeward strengthened by the thought that the Almighty is pleased with the devotion shown to the Saint—the friend of God.

The blessing of the roses is in memory of a marvelous event that happened when St. Rita lay dying. In the little town of Rocca Porrena in Italy, her father had some beautiful roses that St. Rita had admired from her childhood and now she wanted a rose from Rocca Porrena. She asked a friend to bring her one, but it was winter and snow covered the ground. However the friend went to the Saint's home, and there, growing in the snow, was one large blooming rose, which was plucked and carried to the Saint.

VISITORS FROM MANY TOWNS SEE NEW OES OFFICERS INSTALLED

The Masonic Temple was beautifully decorated on Monday evening for the installation of three officers of the Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Izzetta Carlson, as associate matron; Mrs. Helen Sandage, conductress; and Mrs. Orphelia Stinman, associate conductress. Deputy Grand Matron Mrs. Edna May Bolz was installing officer.

Preceding the installation a pot luck dinner was served, at which nearly 200 guests were present. The successful dinner was in charge of Mrs. Harriet Buckingham and Mrs. Netta Finlayson. The Sierra Madre quartette, comprised of Jack Buchan, Dave Buchan, James Heasley and Clarence Noshier, rendered several selections.

Out-of-town visitors were present from Los Angeles, Monrovia, Alhambra, El Monte, Monterey Park, San Marino and Pasadena. The floral decorations were furnished by William Boyer.

WARM WEATHER DUE

Week-end weather will be warmer, with not much morning fog, Col. H. B. Hersey predicts. There will be a few clouds and lots of sunshine.

Lost Canadian Trade

"And we've lost the Canadian market too. We put a ban on Canadian goods and they come right back at us with a slap in a tariff that puts us out of business. And so foreign made marmalade, made of Spanish grown oranges, come right over, through our own Panama Canal, to sell in our own market for less than it costs us to make it."

"What are we going to do? We haven't turned a hand here since last September. But we must do something. Why only yesterday I had five women ready to go to work and then what happens? Creosote in the water. Yes, creosote. Just a minute. I want to talk to Mr. Myers about that."

"Mr. Myers! I want Mr. Myers, the city business manager," he said over the telephone.

Why bother with the phone, we thought. Surely Mr. Myers could hear him.

"Mr. Myers? Say, what's wrong with the water? Here we are all tied up and five women laid off without wages because you have put something in the water. Well, you'd better do

How to Miss the Joy of Life

By F. F. RUNYON
(In the Los Angeles Times)

Don't try to get along without reading your home-town paper. If you do you miss half the joy of life. There is no more interesting than your neighbor, your townsman. No one is closer to you than those who are doing the same things you are doing, striving for the same civic betterment, seeking to secure the same type of government. Fortunately the great majority of people are seeking what is right. Seldom do you ever find the home paper standing for anything that is hurtful or against the common interest.

You just can't afford not to keep in touch with the home newspaper. It records the joys and sorrows of your friends, their successes and failures, their plans and progress. It enters the home in a spirit of helpfulness. It is your community life, and that of those about you it reports. Always you will find the home paper loyal to the community it serves. It will praise the climate, the people, the progress, whatever there is of community life. It will find that which is good and constructive. Sometimes it will make mistakes. That's natural. It's only reflecting some one else's mind, after all. No paper is right all the time.

More League Extend Plan Baseball In For Memorial Sierra Madre Observance

City To Be Represented In Sierra Circuit Of Seven Valley Towns

Additional exciting night baseball games were assured local fans today with announcement of Waverly E. Pratt that Sierra Madre has accepted an invitation to play in the Sierra Night Ball League.

The Sierra League, which opens its playing season the week of May 23, consists of teams from Pasadena, South Pasadena, Glendora, Montebello, Arcadia, the Union Oil Company of Los Angeles, El Monte, and Sierra Madre.

The Sierra Madre team in the Sierra Baseball League will play under the name of the "Sierra Madre Merchants" and will be managed by Frank P. Meyers and Tom Tyler. The first local game is scheduled for next Thursday night against a team from El Monte. On June 1 the contest is with South Pasadena at South Pasadena. The Union Oil Company of Los Angeles will play here June 7.

A selected team of the most experienced local ball players will represent Sierra Madre, Pratt said. Tryouts for team assignments were held on Monday night, when the Union Oil Company came here for a practice game. Many local players tried out but no definite assignments were made.

At the same time, Pratt stressed that the new ball aggregation faces one important problem, and voiced a plea that public spirited citizens step forward and help overcome the difficulty.

"We have to uniform 15 players, and have enough money left over for certain necessary expenses," he said. "It will only take $50 dollars, and the sum represents only an amount which will get us underway. Once we have started playing, our share of all collections will cover our (Continued on Page Three)

Churches And Men's Club Will Sponsor Mass Meeting Here

Next Thursday evening at 7:45 in the Social Hall of the Congregational Church the Men's Community Club will sponsor a citizen's mass meeting at which Dr. M. A. Shipman will speak on "Facing the Crisis" and Judge Charles L. Bogue will discuss "Fighting Crime." The radio entertainer, "The Hired Man," will sing.

Cooperating with the Community Club in securing the program is a committee from the Episcopal, Bethany and Congregational Churches which includes Dean Arnold Bode, Elmer A. Green, Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard, R. O. Caukin, E. E. Bacon, C. L. Twycross, John D. McAndrews and J. O. Smith.

Prizes Galore At Party Of City's P T A

40 Trophies Distributed At One of Community's Finest Social Affairs

The card party sponsored by the Sierra Madre P. T. A. in the grammar school on Saturday night was one of the largest, most successful and thoroughly enjoyable community social events in Sierra Madre's history, attracting visitors from a number of neighboring towns in addition to more than 200 local residents.

For once the odds were very good that even the mediocre card players would garner some sort of prize. Not only were there first, second, third and fourth prizes awarded in contract and auction bridge, but in bunko, 500, hearts—with raffles and door prizes added for good measure.

The improvised display counter that held the prizes during the evening was loaded with half a hundred articles ranging from cakes to beach chairs.

The large number of attractive prizes were much admired by the crowd that filled the school cafeteria and there was much speculation as to the contents and donor of a large, unlabeled package that bore only a question mark. Prize winners were permitted to choose either the regular prize set aside for them, or take a chance on the mystery box.

Mrs. R. O. Roach, of Monrovia, taking fourth prize in auction, also took a chance and selected the mystery package as her prize. She was rewarded by over ten dollars worth of groceries, which included a fine ham, canned goods and delicacies. This gift had been donated by the Safeway Stores.

First and second prize-winners in contract bridge were Miss Edna Green and Mrs. H. H. Steinberger. The prizes were merchandise and a bridge set. In auction both Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Roach were winners. Mrs. W. E. Goff won a carton of electric light globes, donated by the Edison Company, at 500, while Mrs. W. J. Schiltz was awarded perfume and a compact from Hartmann Drug Store.

Local P.T.A. Generous To Relief Fund

Association Learns It Is Largest Contributor; Installs New Officers

The Sierra Madre Parent-Teachers Association was lauded Wednesday night for being the largest single contributor to the Red Cross Relief fund.

In a letter read at the P.T.A. meeting the Red Cross acknowledged and thanked the group for a donation of $327. Before the meeting closed another check for $76 was turned over to a representative of the Red Cross, bringing the organization's donation to $403.

New officers of the organization were installed at the meeting. They were Mrs. Elmer P. Kling, president; Mrs. E. R. Thompson, first vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Evans, second vice-president; Mrs. D. Vanderpool, secretary; L. E. Sullivan, treasurer; Mrs. H. Clay Reavis, auditor, and Mrs. W. C. Dalzell, parliamentarian.

A beautiful basket of flowers and a gold P.T.A. president's pin were presented to Mrs. William Middough, retiring president. Mrs. Warren O. Preston expressed the organization's sincere appreciation for the excellence of the services Mrs. Middough has given the association.

The entertainment program consisted mainly of musical presentations. Jack Buchan gave two vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle Hill. Two of Mrs. Hill's pupils, Alfredo Torpillo and Victoria Ballesteros, gave piano selections. The performances were generously applauded by the audience. Bonny Fern Lane and Betty Lou Siler gave dance interpretations.

Miss Pauline Gartzman of the Pasadena Parent Education body addressed parents on the Parent Education Group, which was followed by a showing by Rudolph Haartman of motion pictures of the new school while under construction. Lee Shippey, who was billed for an address, was unable to be present.

OPERATION IS FATAL TO RICHARD ECCLES

Students of the Sierra Madre Grammar School were saddened this week by the passing of Richard Eccles, nine-year-old son of Thomas T. Eccles and Mrs. Pearl M. Eccles. Richard died on Sunday evening following an operation at the Pasadena Hospital, where he had been taken nine days ago. He attended the local school and has lived here with his mother for over a year at 534 Brookside Lane.

Decorative Palms For Downtown Area All Ready To Plant

Palms intended for planting in the downtown business district will probably be delivered to the city planning commission early next week, according to Mrs. Jessie Ward Russell, nursery head.

The palms are in fine shape, Mrs. Russell said, but delivery is being delayed to enable them to "establish" themselves preparatory to planting.

Urged Creed Of Fairness To Children

Kiwanians Inaugurate System Of Annual Awards To Outstanding Pupils

Prominent Kiwanians journeyed to the Sierra Madre School Wednesday morning as their speaker, Dr. J. L. Woehler, said, "To further six main objectives—citizenship, sportsmanship, initiative, cooperation, physical fitness, and scholarship."

Following plans which the Pasadena schools have found successful during the past 10 years, the Kiwanis Club is initiating in this city a close cooperation with the school in choosing certain of the pupils to head squads which will spread the creed: "I promise to work fair, play fair, be fair."

Wednesday the Club presented silk scarves to the children who had been chosen by reason of their deportment, health, and scholarship records.

The Junior division awards to the girls went to Anna Sue Adwell, captain of squad 1, orange scarf. Intermediates, blue scarves: Margaret Ann Steinberger, Jean Spoelstra, Marion Dudley and Muriel Zahler. The Seniors, whose color was rose, were Mary Alef Wissburg, Victoria Ballesteros, Leona Shields.

The Boys' Junior division awards were to Murray McFarlane and Preston Evans. Their scarves were brown. James Sakamoto and Tom Mitchell were Intermediate squad leaders and were presented with blue scarves. The red "kerchiefs" Seniors were Charles Taylor, Edwin Evans, and Lee Sackett.

Introduced to the pupils who made up the audience by Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal, the members of the Kiwanis present were: Mayor Reavis, City Business Manager Al Myers, City Clerk Waverly E. Pratt, Past President Charles B. Klunk, Frank Spencer, president of the Kiwanis, William Lees, Warren Craig, Doctor J. L. Woehler, J. S. Bilyhour and Councilman Lester K. Layton.

Date Fixed For End Of The East Central Avenue Paving Job

East Central avenue will be completely paved and open, as far as the cemetery, by Decoration Day—and finished to the East City limits by the second week in June.

This announcement was made today by Harvey Steinberger, of the construction force, as final grading started on the stretch between Mountain Trail avenue and Canyon Drive. Progress has been delayed somewhat because of difficulties encountered by the water department in laying water main extensions.

The portion of the improvement between Mountain Trail and Canyon will be completed by next Wednesday, Steinberger said. The remaining block to the cemetery will be finished in time for the Decoration Day parade.

OVER 100 COMPLAINTS CAUSE CITY TO PROVIDE PENALTY FOR LITTERING UP STREETS

Growing disregard for the regulations established by the city for the collection of rubbish and trash and the consequent littering of the streets of the residential districts that has brought in more than a hundred complaints during the present month, caused an announcement from the City Hall yesterday that offending citizens are to be penalized hereafter.

Each week since early April an increasing number of complaints have been received from householders that their neighborhoods are being made unsightly by huge piles of trimmings and trash thrown onto the sidewalks and into the streets without regard to the scheduled rubbish and trash collections to remain there for weeks, until the scheduled collections are made.

The lack of co-operation is due, in the opinion of Business Manager Myers, to the fact that many persons have become careless of the regular collections and violations of the regulations have become so general that it has become necessary to strictly enforce the regulation that imposes a penalty.

Hereafter deposits improperly made upon the streets will be gathered up by the city 24 hours after they have been made. Special trucks will be assigned to the job and the cost of the removal will be charged to the offending property owner or tenant. The minimum charge will probably

Poppy Girls Will Be Out Next Week

Misses In Costume Will Sell Flanders Flower For Disabled Veterans

Plans for the annual Poppy Sale are about completed, according to Mrs. Roy Pickett, Legion Auxiliary president. Arrangements have been made for a booth in the downtown section and some of the workers will wear costumes appropriate for the occasion.

In speaking of the good accomplished by the money raised through the sale, Mrs. Pickett called attention to some interesting facts connected with the evolution of the poppy sale idea. The red poppies of France, she said, early became linked with the soldiers in the minds of the general public and the poem, "Flanders' Fields" riveted the link forever.

As a measure to help the French widows and orphans, silk poppies, made by them, were at first sold in this country. When the Legion Auxiliary was organized in 1921, one of its first acts was to adopt the poppy as its memorial flower, and they decided on red paper flowers as less expensive and more salable in large quantities. The Nationwide Memorial Day sale was begun that year and has steadily grown in usefulness and public favor.

In California the poppy work is carried on in nine hospitals. Those disabled who receive little or no compensation make the flowers and receive three cents for each one. California is the only state where the veterans receive three cents for this work. In many states they are allowed one cent each.

Mrs. Pickett stressed the fact that this money enables these men to buy little comforts they would otherwise not have, and in many cases, it is the only means they have of earning anything to help their families. "We earnestly beg everyone to plan to buy at least one poppy next week," said Mrs. Pickett, "for every single one sold helps some disabled soldier."

No Scarlet Fever Cases In 10 Days; Control Outbreak

The outbreak of scarlet fever, which for a time threatened to grow into an epidemic, has been brought under control, and no new cases have been reported in over 10 days, Mrs. Ellen Coll Barker, school nurse, declared today.

Every investigation in the last week has been of some other disease, the health official said. She attributed the quick action in checking the disease to the spirit of cooperation exhibited by parents.

Several of the 17 houses afflicted with the disease have been released from quarantine, and the children allowed to return to school. One of the factors which gave the outbreak impetus at first was the fact that four cases diagnosed as measles developed into scarlet fever.

Included among those now out of school because of quarantine is Miss Virginia Barry, third grade teacher, who has been sick for more than a week. Miss Barry, according to Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, possibly will not be able to resume her duties for several weeks.

Schools Emptied In Suprising Time During Fire Drills

New speed records were made on Monday in fire drills conducted at the public school and St. Rita's by Fire Chief W. D. Richards and Joseph Swanson.

At the public school more than 380 students fled out of the building in 66 seconds. At St. Rita's the school was emptied of 85 students in exactly 18 seconds. In neither school were there signs of disorder or confusion, indicating a perfect co-ordination between students and teachers, Chief Richards said.

The drills were the second held this year, and were made in much shorter time than in the first tryouts.

By Henry Johns Hawchurst

FOR a good while I have fumed and fretted, cussed and discussed, worried and written about this modernistic art that has been cluttering up our American galleries.

Matisse and Picasso pretty well sold the American public on the idea of abortive art thru the big league newspaper publicity—it made good copy.

Prohibition and modernism were introduced to the American public at about the same time and if there was anything wilder than the brand of boot-leg whiskey that followed the passing of the Eighteenth Amendment it was the brand of art brewed by the young, aspiring artists.

From time to time I have mentioned the fact that modernistic art is on the wane—that the public knew what it liked and did not like the kind of artistic medicine that was being forced down its throat. Not until recently have I learned why this reaction was being brought about.

In the last issue of "The Art Digest," America's biggest magazine devoted exclusively to fine art, there appeared an article under the caption of: "ART AND ALCOHOL." In part here it is:

"In view of the stress now being laid on 'The American Wave' and the prophesies of the American renaissances, these words of Agnes Repplier, noted essayist, in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, are of interest: 'Art and letters cannot thrive in a dry country.
American may forge ahead scientifically and politically but will produce no great art or literature: we will produce none of the things that make for inspiration and great spiritual vision.'

"O.K. Philadelphia," says Walter Winchell would say, now lets argue a bit with Sister Repplier.
The noted essayist gets to first on a base hit. We agree that alcohol and art have always been closely allied in some form or other, but here is where Miss Repplier fails to reach second base.

To begin with America was never made dry by jamming thru of the Eighteenth Amendment.
The act merely transferred the production of alcohol from the government distilleries to the less experienced bootleggers. The result was rotten liquor—poisonous liquor—liquor so wild that a few drops given to a guinea pig would make the poor little creature rush forth and try to pick a fight with a wild cat. Our young, aspiring artists also partook of this 'fire-water' with a result that they delved into pigments and painted pathetic pictures. When the bootleg was wild, so were our artists, but after 12 years of experience the bootleggers are turning out better stuff —and so are our artists and there is still much hope for American art.

THAT TEN PER CENT

The people of the United States consume about 90 per cent of what they produce. Ten per cent normally goes abroad.

That may seem a small drop in the bucket. But the 10 per cent may mean the difference between prosperity and depression in this country. A 10 per cent profit on an investment is a very good one. A 10 per cent drop in the business done by a concern usually makes drastic retrenchment essential.

In 1931 the United States sold abroad $2,500,000,000 less goods than in 1925. Yet even in 1931, more than $1,500,000,000 was paid to 1,400,000 people directly involved in manufacturing products for export. According to David Lawrence, if we could get back the two-and-a-half billions of foreign trade we have lost, we could put more than 1,500,000 men to work, earning about $1-500,000,000 in wages, all of which would serve to swell our purchasing power as a Nation. Another 1,400,000 persons would be put to work supplying the goods these re-employed people wanted to buy. The net gain, therefore, would be employment for close to 3,000,000 workers more than a third of those now out of work.

There is not a state or a town in the country which is not adversely affected by the decline in foreign trade. In these days commerce between nations grows steadily more important to the the stability and prosperity of the world. It is an international problem—but it is a problem which narrows down until it reaches the smallest hamlet in the land.

judges $7,500 a year. The pro-cost of government $50,000 a year, but would have to be voluntarily accepted by the judges, for their salaries are fixed by the Legislature and were increased only at the last session of that body.

OUT IN THE STICKS

THE noted Bailey Millard wrote about Spring in the sticks." It was published in the Los Angeles Times and inspired Mrs. Mary Ward, of this city, to answer in kind. Here is the answer and the inspiration:

RUSTIC SPRING SONG

Oh, spring has sprung
Out in the sticks,
And it has sprung
Joy to us hicks.

We're glad becoz
Them winter nights
Is gone with all
Their frosty blights.

We had to keep Right on the bound
And smudge the air
For miles around.

We fired the pot
With durned poor grace
Until we got Black in the face.

On such dinged jobs
I ain't much sold.
Say, wasn't it
Uncommon cold?

But now how sweet
The birdies trill;
And poppies blaze
On every hill!

The wild oats wave,
So do the tame.
Oh, boy, I'm glad
That Spring has came!

BAILEY MILLARD.

"SPRING HAS CAME"

Sir Poet laughs
At rustic springs;
Mayhap to hide
The heart, he sings.

Yes, "Spring has came"
Out in the sticks;
And we are glad
That we are hicks.

For hicks enjoy
The blossomed field
While still naive
Enough to yield.

Our souls to charm
And poppy lure
Where skies are clear
And water pure.

Though we have learned
We must not sing
Of any theme
As trite as "Spring."

Plans For Armory Win Honor For Local College Man

College of Architecture of the has received notice of the award of honorable mention in the an-award granted to any except the winning contestant, a student at Columbia University. The problem was the design of an armory

Earlier this year Mr. Davis won

A NOBLE SIGN

There is a strong appeal made to one's conscience who is withholding his efforts in giving or by personal service. Giving is a noble sign and to those who volunteer their part toward giving to the needy and distressed there is always a rich harvest of dividends. Cold indifference and carelessness from the able-to-give must be a miserable existence to endure, in the face of the hungry and ill-clad; the jobless with dark hope ahead. Beware of forgotten duty! Then let your conscience guide you.

Olympic Aquatic Stars To Appear In Canyon Park Plunge During Season

By Decoration Day at least every mother will know just where her youngsters spend their nights—the municipal swimming pool.

Although the prevailing high fogs make the actual date of opening a matter of doubt, Jim Heasley, manager, says the pool will definitely be in operation on Decoration Day, May 30. The probable opening day is May 28, Heasley said.

Opening day should be a popular one for no admission will be charged. Nor will an admission be charged on Decoration Day. Heasley is planning on making the pool's coming season a gala one.

"I expect to have some of the Olympic aquatic stars here some time during the summer, although I can't say now what ones or when. Anyway, everything will be done to make the pool an attractive gathering place."

A new 12 foot diving platform is to be built at the pool. As in past years refreshments will be served.

expenses. We do need this amount to get started, however.

"It would not seem a great task to raise the money. There are enough people here, I believe, who can part with a dollar apiece, to get us going. Any one wishing to help can leave their donations either with the Sierra Madre News or bring them to me at the City Hall."

After three weeks of play the teams will play twice weekly, one game at home and one away. The season will be played in two halves, each consisting of two rounds. At the season's end leaders in each half will play off for the championship.

Formation of the new team will not interfere with organization of the city leagues, Pratt declared. At present only four teams are definitely intending to play, these being the Legion, Ice-men, Sierra Madre Merchants and the Simonizers. A minor league will be organized if teams appear for it, Pratt said.

One of the considerations before the team managers is creation of an executive committee of three to centralize certain of the business affairs of the different leagues. There is also a plan to induce members of local churches to form a church league. At present the only church representative consists of the two tentatively announced Boy Scout teams.

One of the decisions so far made relates to moundmen of the two strongest teams, Legionnaires and Sierra Madre Merchants. Pratt, of the Legion, and Kiggins, of the Merchants, are such strong pitchers that it is proposed they be relegated to infield positions when playing against teams of the minor league.

Legion Post Await Call To Mobilize

Auxiliary Will Join In Effort To Land Trophy For Local Organizations

Members of the American Legion post are preparing for the state-wide "emergency mobilization" which will take place some Sunday morning between May 22 and June 12.

Twenty-four hours before the time of mobilization all area and district commanders will be notified of the mobilization by telegram, with the information being relayed to individual posts. Other than this there will be no advance information given out.

As in past years the Women's Auxiliary will mobilize with the Legion. Disaster and relief committees have been organized in all units and excellent plans have been prepared.

The method of mobilization will be similar to the 1931 test. Post Commander A. H. Emree has designated the City Hall as a mobilization point. Within two hours of the start of mobilization post members must report to district commanders the number of Legionnaires, members of the Auxiliary, Boy Scouts and others mobilized. Mobilization consists, merely of registration and a time notation.

A cup will be awarded to the post of less than 100 members, which includes Sierra Madre, mobilizing the largest number of members in the shortest time. The local legion members, as well as Boy Scouts and members of the fire department, will be called to mobilize by three blasts of the fire siren, under an arrangement between Legion officials and Fire Chief W. D. Richards.

TO CELEBRATE OPENING OF OLD PEOPLE'S HOME

Many representatives of British organizations are expected to attend a garden party to be held June 3 on the grounds of the British Old People's Home at 647 Manzanita avenue. The party will be held in observance not only of the birthday of King George of England, but of the first anniversary of the founding of the home itself.

SLASH EXCURSION RATES OVER HOLIDAY

With the three-day Memorial Day holiday period offering the incentive for trips by thousands of persons, cent-a-mile roundtrip transportation fares will be placed in effect for that occasion by Southern Pacific Company.

Dates of the offer were announced by G. W. Wetherby, district passenger agent for the railroad, as May 27, 28, 29 and 30, with return limit on all tickets set at midnight of Monday, June 6. As in previous instances, the low fares will apply on Southern Pacific's lines in all parts of the West.

Announcement is also made that cent-a-mile fares will be sold via El Paso and via Nogales to Mexico City and other Mexican points.

175 Gardens Started Here By Children

School Pupils Encouraged To Raise Vegetable Crops For Home Consumption

Covering the period from October 12, 1931 to May 9, 1932, a report of "assistance" expenditures of the Red Cross was released today by Chairman W. R. Humphries.

During this period $860.13 has been spent on school lunches provided pupils in the public and parochial schools. Mr. Humphries disclosed. An additional $175.50 was loaned in small amounts to needy persons to permit them to meet pressing obligations, and of this sum $170.72 has been returned.

At the same time, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger disclosed that school children have started the cultivation of 175 home gardens since February 15, and many of the gardens have already commenced to supply produce for home consumption. An inspection of the various gardens will be made next week, Miss Steinberger said. Among the vegetables growing in the gardens are onions, lettuce, tomatoes and cabbages. The tomato and cabbage plants were transplanted from the Red Cross Garden at Lima and Ramona streets. Many plants grown here are still available to anybody requesting them from the Red Cross offices in the Sierra Madre Hotel building.

Mr. Humphries also declared that 78 sacks of the government supply of flour have been distributed. Each sack contains 24½ pounds of flour.

'Spirit Of '49' Sends Local Prospectors To Trinity County

Imbued with the "spirit of '49," a trio of Sierra Madreans have reached the back country of Trinity County in search of gold. The three, Norman Jensen, Gordon and Kenneth Langworthy, left here, equipped for a trip of several weeks. They expect to be entirely out of touch with "civilization," and very busy in search of the elusive yellow metal.

"They didn't have any specific destination when they left here," Mrs. Jensen said. "They intend to try their luck for several weeks. If they have even moderate luck they'll stay at it."

THESE THIEVES WERE PARTIAL TO CIGARETS

Making their entrance through a rear garage and bathroom window, thieves last Friday night stole a number of cartons of cigarettes from the pool hall run by William Deutsch at 45 West Central.

Investigation by Police Chief Gordon McMillan indicated the thieves probably consisted of a young boy and an older man who acted as lookout in an automobile outside. The boy crawled through a small window. It was found Handprints of a small size indicated his age, Chief McMillan said.

IN YOUR GARDEN

By Jessie Ward Russell, Landscape Gardener

Now that the days are growing longer and warmer, our thoughts turn more to the out-of-doors. If one has a comfortable and inviting garden, one does not have to go far outdoors to be contented.

The modern garden contains a secluded area, which is called an outdoor living room, where one can lounge around in the fresh air and sunshine (or shade) to one's heart's content. Such a garden must be planned and furnished with plant materials such as one would plan and furnish a room in the interior of the house.

It must have a carpet of velvety lawn, walls of dense shrubbery, it must be partly roofed with trees and partly roofed by the blue sky.

Flowering plants must take the place of gay-colored wall papers and pictures. A few well placed rustic chairs and benches and a table will make the outdoor living room more inviting.

If the trees are conveniently placed, a hammock can be swung between them, or if there are no tree trunks handy, a swinging hammock of the sort that has its own support can be used.

Supper served outdoors in a place like this on an evening when it is unbearably hot indoors is delightful and will especially please the kiddies who will think they are having a picnic.

A small fish and lily pool is always an addition to the outdoor living room but is not necessary to its success.

More elaborate outdoor living rooms boast pergolas, garden gates, rockeries, trellises, bird baths, sundials, etc. These accessories, if they really add to the beauty or usefulness of the garden, can be added at a later date if one does not wish to go to this expense when first planning and building the garden.

Every really successful garden depends upon a plan—a plan that represents not only the placing of a certain number of plants and features, but one that arouses renewed enthusiasm each year as its fulfillment creates an inviting and beautiful outdoor living room.

'Some' Fishermen On City's Police Force; Hear Their Yarns

A battle of fishes was waged in the police department last week, and, despite desperate efforts of Gordon McMillan and Harry C. Scott, it ended in a tie. Sunday, Chief McMillan, accompanied by his wife, journeyed to Big Santa Anita dam where he caught a trout "22 inches long. And if you don't believe it, look at these pictures." His catch totaled 8 trout.

So Scott, not to be outdone by a mere trout weighing only 2½ pounds, went a mackerel fishing out to sea. When he returned there were 25 mackerel in the bag.

The nimrods decided to call it a tie.

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

SUMMER is here and the war on weeds is underway. Chief Richards is urging everyone to be careful about making fires in the yards and near dry grass.

Be sure there is sufficient fire break around anything you are about to burn, even though it may be a fire in an incinerator. Experience has taught us that a fire can start very easily and when they are least expected. When you are smoking, be it cigarettes or what not, don't forget that there are restrictions in certain districts that are really within the City limits.

Everyone who has a fire hazard caused by a lot or yard full of weeds has received notice from the city by this time. Pay particular attention to the clause calling attention to the fact that a permit must be secured to burn weeds—and be careful after you get the permit.

There seemed to be plenty to do after the meeting Friday night and the Chief had the boys remove all the papers that had accumulated near the fire trucks in the engine house. Among the many newspapers were many comic sheets. These are an attraction to the children that pass by. Not being on the top of the pile, naturally they are dug for, and the papers on top are strewn from here to there and back again. Of course, the children gather them up and fold them very carefully, replacing them on the pile. Oh, yes, they do—not. This is just an attempt by the writer to tell you not to put any more papers in the firehouse. The Boy Scouts need the papers anyway, so we will gladly turn any or all the future newspaper gathering over to them.

Harlan Gerlach is up with the birds at the new home on Scenic Point and he looks like a real farmer when you see him around the garden. Gerlach is now living at the Fennel Estate and it is up to him to get the big Wistaria Vine and grounds in condition for next year's big annual community event. He says the mocking birds sing him to sleep at night and waken him in the morning.

With the Scouts

YOU Scouts of Troop 1 better get those tests passed before your two weeks are up. You know you are given a test to pass every two weeks.

The usual Scout business was finished at the last meeting and a period for studying tests was given. The evening was polished off with a game of basketball.

For those Scouts who are going to Cherry Valley, this will be a good time to start saving money for the trip.

Don't forget those tests.

Bill Hansen, Scribe, Troop No. 1

Uniformed Scouts from both troops are to be on hand for the Memorial Day parade, down Central avenue, May 30. Every Scout should make a special effort to be there.

Incidentally, everybody ought to turn out for the Court of Honor, June 8. Troop 2 has a one-act skit under consideration, and plans to have several Scouts up for badges. This includes some new members. May 29 is also Father Hyacinth's 25th anniversary in the priesthood. Father's was the guiding hand that made Troop 2 an actuality in Sierra Madre. No one will ever take his place in the devoted hearts of the small band he started in Scouting.

This week, May 16-21, was "Clean Up Week" for the Scouts of Los Angeles and all of Southern California. Scouts were out sprucing things up with paint and broom.

And along the sport line—Our baseball team had some sizzling innings of the "grand old game" with the "Simonses," last Tuesday night, the 17th.

A WELL PLANTED BACK YARD

CARELESS MAN'S BACK YARD

A. L. A. Activities

By Dorothy Shetter

SOME of the first to arrive at Miss Elizabeth and Mother Steinbergers' house for the regular Auxiliary meeting, thought the meeting had been called off. The house was in darkness. But the timely arrival of the electrician with some fuses made everything o.k. There was a large turnout and that always pep up a business meeting. And as for the social end of it, the more the merrier. And we were a merry crowd. Mrs. Waverly Pratt and Mrs. Frank Wilson, a newcomer to Sierra Madre, carried off the prizes for luncheon.

Save your flowers for Memorial Day. As in previous years, the Auxiliary will again decorate the soldiers' graves in the Sierra Madre Cemetery. There are 25 graves to beautify this year.

The Daughters of the Union Veterans are planning to decorate the graves of the Civil War Veterans. Anyone having Shasta daisies, English Ivy or everlasting flowers to donate, for the wreaths or any other flowers to form sprays, phone 252-3, or 219-2, or 217-4 and a car will call for them, either May 28th or 29th. Those that wish to deliver their flowers, will find a group in the City Hall basement, Sunday night, May 29, making up the floral displays.

Seems like the Auxiliary as a whole turned out for the big doin's at the P.T.A. benefit. Everyone had a good time, so far as we could see. And everyone had plenty of good cake and coffee. The prizes were lovely and all in all the party was a success. Gertrude Powell, District Poppy Chairman, was there, among quite a number of out-of-town folks.

P.S.—Remember the SOS that was sent out last week for chairs for the Legion Headquarters? For some reason the response has been—nil. We are of a hopeful nature—will someone send in a stool or bench of some kind; so that Your's Truly won't have a withering of the aforesaid hope.

MAY ABANDON PLAN TO EXTEND FOOTHILL INTO EAST LA CANADA

With protestants assertedly representing 98 per cent of interested property owners, hearing on the proposal to improve Foothill boulevard between East LaCanada and West Altadena, including a bridge over Arroyo Seco, was held Wednesday before the special assessment committee of the county. The extent of protest against the improvement indicated complete abandonment of the proposal, which was first inaugurated in 1926.

Objectors insisted the project is too expensive and a detriment rather than an improvement.

ORGAN RECITAL DRAWS VISITORS FROM VALLEY

Dean Bode's Organ Recital at the Church of the Ascension at 5 o'clock last Sunday afternoon brought a large attendance, including many from Pasadena and the vicinity. Mrs. Randolph Wood, assisted with her beautiful voice in two numbers. After the recital about 40 of the audience gathered in the Parish House for a social hour.

Next to Diamonds

Corundum is the hardest mineral next to the diamond and when transparent is known as amethyst, sapphire, and ruby. Although it is a compound of oxygen and aluminum it is four times heavier than water. It is named after the Hindu word "kurand" and it is therefore thought to have first been discovered in India. Chic Suit of White something—"The creosote taint, it was explained, came from a tar preparation used by the city to plug up a leak in the reservoir tank. It vanished in twenty-four hours."

This trim little suit of white in one of the new spongy weaves for spring is worn by Rochelle Hudson, R-K-O star. The skirt and jacket close with large white button trim. The silk-faced scarf collar, with its bright ends of blue and red, carries out the new high neckline effect. A hat of blue and white is worn with this.

"Now don't write anything about my business," said Mr. Ward. "I don't want a word published about it. Not a word. It only stirs the competitors. A thousand people will read it and want to go into the business."

"But why, if there's a loss?" "Oh that won't stop them. Why don't I stop? I take my loss. Here I have been working for years. Look at that orchard. Just figure all the care it takes—pruning, plowing, watering, fertilizing. But what's the use? Why some folks are talking about the Democrats coming back into power. If they do—"

There are two sides to everything. Presto! E. Waldo Ward subsides. What a metamorphosis! Now he is quiet, gentle, and soft at a falling snowflake.

He'll Carry On
"Oh I guess I'll carry on," he said. "I started this business to build up something for my son. A twinkle warmed his eyes. 'You know I'm only 52 and I still have my job as salesman for an importing house. And I'm a pretty good salesman, too.'"

For forty years E. Waldo Ward has been a resident of Sierra Madre. He came from New York, and like the rest of the pioneers here, he went into the ranching business. Gradually he worked into the orange growing industry, and importing cuttings from Seville he budded the famous bitter fruit with which he has since supplied the world's breakfast toast with marmalade.

Mr. Ward is not only an old, but a valued resident of the community for beneath his sometimes gruff and vociferous mannerism he is kindly and generous and has very unostentatiously done many things worth while for the upbuilding of the city and the welfare of its people, scarcely letting his right hand know what the left had done. Many travelers throughout the land who are served little jars of his marmalade at breakfast on dining cars of the great railroad systems would enjoy meeting the ministerial looking rancher and manufacturer of Sierra Madre.

LOCAL STORE MANAGER
WINS SALESMANSHIP PRIZE
P. R. Penn, manager of the grocery department of the North Baldwin avenue Safeway Store, was given a 100 piece set of dishes on Saturday evening at a Safeway meeting in Los Angeles. The prize was awarded to Mr. Penn for selling the greatest amount of Palmolive-Peet products in the Pomona-San Gabriel Valley district.

The Safeway Store on West Central avenue was given a check for $25 for having the most attractive store during the annual cleanup week.

Hope is still felt that Pasadena can regain ownership of Carmelita Park, the title of which reverted to local banks two years ago through foreclosure proceedings. The Board of City Directors intend asking the banks to allow a year's additional time in which to raise $40,000 required to redeem the 12 acre beauty spot.

The opportunity of seeing glee clubs and orchestras in the making was given members of the Woodrow Wilson Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association in the Willard Auditorium, when Theodore R. Gundry, director of the orchestra at Woodrow Wilson, presented groups of students. Miss Alberta Metzler's department demonstrated the method of teaching piano to an entire class of students. The method used gives every student in the class the same instruction and opportunity to demonstrate their achievements. Mrs. Sadie Turheim demonstrated the chorus work with an entire class. These students in the chorus work are "trying out" for the much coveted prize of becoming a member of the boys or girls glee clubs.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. D. F. Roach; vice-president, Mrs. J. N. Wright; secretary, Mrs. C. S. Howe; treasurer, Mrs. J. M. Quennell; historian, Mrs. L. V. Sinclair; auditor, R. S. Myers; parliamentarian, A. M. Brown.

CONDITION OF M. A. HAWKES IS STEADILY IMPROVING
Friends of M. A. Hawkes of 196 West Montecito avenue, one of Sierra Madre's oldest and most loved residents, are pleased to find Mr. Hawkes up and around, when they call upon him. In turn they find him mightily pleased at the interest the community has shown in his welfare. He is gaining in health steadily and will soon be taking his daily walks about town again.

Eight bids on the improvement of Colorado street between Mentor avenue and the east city limits, the lowest figured at $67,020, were submitted Tuesday to the Pasadena Board of City Directors. The board is expected to accept the low bid, made by J. E. Haddock construction company of Pasadena. The work is to be an unemployment relief project, and must be done within the boundaries of a county appropriation of $85,000.

Plan Features For Chess Tournament

Efforts were being made today by local chess fans to provide an outstanding event as the afternoon feature of the Third Annual Morphy Day Chess Tournament here June 18. If these efforts are successful there will be a match between two 10-man teams representing the Long Beach and Pasadena Chess Clubs. Other events tentatively scheduled for the tournament, which observes the birthday of Morphy, a nationally known chess expert and writer, will include a match in which Miss LaVieve M. Hynes plays "simultaneously" against a number of other opponents and a "Rapid Transit" under supervision of Charles Broughten.
